

MANY KILLED, 200 HURT IN I. C. PASSENGER WRECK

MRS. MALACH, ONE OF EARLY PIONEER SETTLERS, IS DEAD

Beloved Sublette Resident Died at the Age of Eighty-Five

Mrs. Catherine Krebs Malach, one of Lee county's oldest residents, passed peacefully away at her home in Sublette Saturday morning about 10:30. Although she had been in declining health since early last spring, her last illness kept her bedfast but she was able to see all of her children at her bedside when the end came. Mrs. Malach was born in Essendorf, Prussia, Germany, Aug. 1, 1843 and only last Wednesday, while bedfast, her eighty-fifth birthday anniversary was quietly celebrated.

Had Seven Children. At the age of nine years, Mrs. Malach came to the United States with her parents and they settled at once in May township, later moving to a farm southeast of Sublette. September 8, 1859 she was united in marriage to George Malach, at LaSalle and they continued to make their home on the farm of her childhood until the death of her husband who passed away, December 12, 1898. To this union were born seven children, all living and all of whom were at her bedside when she responded to her final summons, as follows: Mrs. George Lauer of Winnetka; John Malach of Dixon; George Malach of Mendota; Mrs. A. H. Lauer of Des Plaines; Miss Catherine at home; Mrs. Fred Ludwig of Chicago and Otto Malach of Sublette. Twenty-six grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral Wednesday. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at the church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help at Sublette Wednesday morning at 9:30. Rev. Fr. James O. Lauer of St. Bede's college of Peru, a grandson of the deceased will be the celebrant with Rev. Fr. Joseph Weidkamp assisting. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery at Sublette. Six of her grandsons will serve as pallbearers. In her passing, another of the few remaining pioneers of Lee county has been summoned. She had made Lee county her home for 76 years. Confronted with privations of the early settling of May and Sublette townships, Mrs. Malach endeavored herself to all who knew her by her sweet and kindly disposition. She was an inspiration not only to her family but to all with whom she came in contact. Home loving and at all times thinking and doing for the welfare of her family, Mrs. Malach was active in her church. She was a member of St. Anne's Fidelity and of the Sacred Heart League and took an active part in the growth of the church in which she held membership in Sublette as long as she was physically able.

SOLDIERS-SAILORS ASSOCIATION WILL BE HERE AUG. 15-16

Two Day Program Being Arranged to Entertain Visitors

The 44th annual re-union of the Northwestern Illinois Soldiers & Sailors' Association will be held at Dixon, August 15 to 16, 1928. The committee will arrange a two-day program which will be announced later. On August 15, the forenoon will be taken up with registration and greetings; in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 there will be a program of music and speeches and following the afternoon session there will be a business session and the election of officers. The campfire will be held in the evening.

August 16, the regimental re-unions will be held at 10 o'clock. Members of the 34th Ill., 75th Ill., 92nd Ill., and 140th Ill., will participate at the re-union. Entertainment will be furnished by Dixon citizens free to all comrades and ladies. The Chamber of Commerce will co-operate with the local committees to make the re-union a success. S. W. Gossard of Chana is president of the association and C. W. Johnson of Dixon is secretary and treasurer. The speakers for the afternoon and evening of the 15th will be announced later.

SEARCH STATE FOR AIRPLANE LOST FIVE DAYS

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—Search throughout Illinois and neighboring states was begun today for pilot Lewis H. Stewart and Clinton L. Arney, mechanic, who has been missing since they left Chicago last Thursday in a Stinson-Detroit six passenger cabin monoplane. Officials of the Central Airways Corporation, for whom they were flying, expressed a fear that the plane had met with an accident in fog.

Stewart and Arney took off from the municipal airport for a tour of Illinois, planning a stop at Springfield. The plane, numbered 5403, had orange wings and blue fuselage.

Deaf Mute Drowns Because He Could Not Call For Aid

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 6—(AP)—Unable to call for help because he was deaf and dumb, James Gerry, 21, of Chicago was drowned in Round Lake, ten miles west of here, late yesterday. Gerry, an expert swimmer, was swimming in the lake with two companions who were also deaf and dumb when he was seized with cramps. None of the three was able to summon help.

Geo. Brennan Is Making Progress

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—George E. Brennan is making good strides toward recovery from the septic poisoning that threatened his life a week ago, physicians at the John B. Murphy hospital announced today. For the fourth successive day his condition was reported improved, although the Democratic leader of Illinois was not wholly out of danger.

LOS ANGELES HAS ANOTHER CASE OF VIOLENT MURDER

Wealthy Society Woman Beaten To Death in Her Home

Los Angeles, Aug. 6—(AP)—Solution of another violent murder case confronted the police today in the slaying of Mrs. Myrtle L. Mellus, 41, wealthy and socially prominent.

Her nude and battered body was found yesterday in a bedroom of the Mellus house, located in a fashionable residence district. Leo (Pat) Kelly, 29, a suspect, was found groveling in a clothes closet on the first floor. He denied killing the woman although he said he gave her a "terrible beating," police said.

Discovery of the murdered woman was reported by her husband, Frank Mellus, club man, and vice president of a wholesale concern, who returned home late from a day's fishing trip. The house was locked and he forced a door to gain entrance.

Discovery of the suspect was made by police who overpowered Kelly when he attempted to escape.

Terrific Death Struggle

The body appeared to have been stripped during a terrific struggle preceding the death blow, which apparently was delivered by a beer bottle. Mrs. Mellus' face was badly bruised and her body mutilated.

Rodney was accused as a motive when a jewel case, containing jewels the husband valued at $10,000 was found unopened.

INTERNATIONAL INS. CO. HEAD IS UNDER FIRE

State Commissioners Ask Him to Produce Securities

St. Louis, Aug. 6—(AP)—Roy C. Toombs, and other officers of the International Life Insurance company have been given one week in which to produce $3,500,000 in securities or face a recommendation of criminal action by eight insurance commissioners from different states, who are investigating the company.

Toombs, in Chicago, denied last night that there was any shortage or discrepancy in the affairs of his company saying that the International Life is in "very splendid condition."

The report of the commissioners, made by Charles R. Detrick, California commissioner said that they were unable to find the securities and that Toombs had refused them access to his books when they called upon him in Chicago.

Claims No Report

Toombs replied to this with a declaration that neither he, nor any other officer of the company has received any report from either insurance examiners or the commissioners.

"I was in St. Louis during the last week," he said, "and conferred at length with friends and associates there. We have very capable vice presidents and other officials in St. Louis, in charge of the detail work of the International and I have every reason to believe that its affairs are being properly conducted."

"Despite many rumors which have come from sources unknown to me, I desire to reassure the policy holders and the stockholders of the company, as well as all its agency forces that their interests are being well protected and preserved and that there is no ground for alarm, or reason to give heed to any rumor which may come to them."

Independents Trim Shannons, 11-2

The Dixon Independents showed the Shannon team that although the locals are not league leaders they can put up a scrap, and after it was all over the team which had upset the dope the week before by handing Polo, pace-makers, a 2 to 0 trimming, was on the short end of an 11 to 2 score. The Dixon team played the best brand of base ball it has exhibited the entire season, battling like fiends and fielding spotlessly behind Reddish's excellent twirling. The Independents made ten runs on a single inning and put the game on ice right then and there.

STANDARD OIL DIVIDEND

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—An extra cash dividend of 25 cents on each share of capital stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was voted by its directors today, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 22-1/2 cents. The dividend is payable Sept. 15 to stockholders of record Aug. 15.

ROCKFORD MAN BADLY HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP

Is In Dixon Hospital Following Crash East of This City

A Dodge coupe in which Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyers, 1052 Rockton avenue, Rockford, were enroute to LaSalle to spend the week-end with relatives, was completely wrecked Saturday evening about 5 o'clock in front of the Brierton school on route 2 east of Dixon. A farmer who claimed to have witnessed the accident stated that the car swerved from the paving, and crashed into a cement abutment at a culvert in front of the school and turned end over twice before coming to a stop.

Mr. Meyers had both jaw bones on the left side shattered and a gash penetrated through the left cheek which was about five inches long extending from the corner of the mouth back to the ear. Both Mr. and Mrs. Meyers were rushed to the Dixon public hospital, where he was placed in the operating room. Mrs. Meyers suffered only slight bruises about the head. The car was hauled to a local garage. Not a window was broken.

HOOVER SPEECH TO DEAL WITH HOOVER IDEALS; NO ABUSE

Will Present Constructive Policies for U. S. Government

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 6—(AP)—Herbert Hoover gave his attention today to the larger questions of campaign policy which will come up for discussion and decision at conferences he is to hold at his home here with party leaders immediately before and after the notification ceremonies at Stanford University next Saturday.

Those who are in the confidence of the Republican presidential candidate are authority for the prediction that so far as Hoover himself is concerned his speech will be devoted to an exposition of his own policies and the relationship of government to the many economic and commercial problems at present or soon to arise. To put it in another form, they assert that his firm conviction is that the sort of campaign in which the people are interested in an affirmative one with the presentation of constructive plans for the future rather than one devoted largely to attacks upon the opposition.

Plans for carrying on such a fight in the time intervening before the general election on November 6 already have been the subject of conferences the nominee has had with leaders. These will be further outlined at his meetings here with Chairman Hubert Work, of the Republican National Committee, and others.

Mr. Work is to arrive here next Friday and remain over until August 13. Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, chairman of the notification committee, will arrive Thursday, but the vanguard of national committeemen and committeewomen will reach Palo Alto even before that time.

No Extended Campaign Tour

Hoover has in mind now to make no extended journeys over the country during the campaign. He will make a visit to the turbulent corn belt on his way back to the national capital on August 21, speaking at his birthplace at West Branch, Iowa.

He will deal largely with the agricultural problem, outlining means of indirect aid to the farmer, which he holds is almost as important as the direct aid.

The Republican nominee had only one engagement today, that with Dwight Davis, Secretary of War.

His engagement slate for tomorrow was clear because of his projected trip into the Sierras of California, beginning Tuesday.

Court of Awards At Girl Scout Camp on Last Night in Camp

On Tuesday evening, which will be the last night in camp for the Girl Scouts of Dixon, who, in company with scouts from Downers Grove and Morrison, are camping near Lyndon, a Court of Awards will be held and the girls, who have been working very hard to perfect themselves in scout work, will receive the badges they have earned.

This afternoon has been set aside for a "water carnival." Miss Hamnerstrom of Clinton, Ia., has planned an interesting program with her swimming classes.

Henry J. Beltz, of Sublette, George E. Ross of Harmon, Albert Bleschke of West Brooklyn, and Amil J. Bernardin of Compton will leave Thursday to attend the Rural Letter Carriers convention to be held in Centerville August 10th and 11th.

POLISH FLIERS RESCUED FROM SEA OFF SPAIN

Found Swimming After Their Plane Had Been Wrecked

Lisbon, Portugal, August 6—(AP)—Major Kasimir Kubala said today that a broken pipe line forced him and his companion Major Louis Idzikowski to turn back after they had flown 21 of the 42 hours which they estimated it would take them to fly from Paris to New York.

The airmen were rescued when found swimming in the sea near the wreckage of their plane the Marsalek Pilsudski by the German steamer Sarnos Saturday and brought to Laxos, near Oporto.

On board the ship Kubala slipped and fell cutting his right forearm on broken glass.

Oil Tube Plugged

Kubala interviewed in the Oporto military hospital said that after they had flown twenty one hours the tube feeding the oil stopped working. The airmen thought it would be impossible therefore to continue their flight to America and decided to return.

When they were seventy miles off Cape Finisterre, westernmost point of Spain, they noticed additional damage. This caused the wings to collapse and the heavy seaplane plunged into the sea near the Sarnos. The wings broke and the plane was damaged in other respects.

"We threw ourselves into the sea," said Kubala. "We swam toward the Sarnos whose crew rescued us and then took the plane in tow. We were altogether 38 hours in the air."

The airmen plan to leave for Paris with their plane on Wednesday. Their rescue was the second within three days of fliers trying to span the Atlantic from east to west. Captain Courtney and his crew, enroute from the Azores to America, were picked up by a liner after ten hours on the water in their seaplane, which had been partially destroyed by fire. A broken gas line had sprayed fuel against the hot motors and forced a rapid descent.

Courtney and the Polish fliers are the only ones who have been rescued after failing to reach land on an east to west flight across the Atlantic.

BLAME GANG WAR FOR MURDER AND BURNING OF MAN

New York Police Have Another Murder Mystery to Solve

Englewood, N. J., Aug. 6—(AP)—The murder of a man, whose body, shot through the head and back and then burned almost beyond recognition, was found by a berry picker along a well traveled road atop the Palisades was a mystery today to police.

They laid the murder to a gang feud, believing the dead man had been "taken for a ride," possibly from New York, and that after he had been killed, his body was taken to the spot where it was found and the clothing was saturated with gasoline and fired.

The fact that the hands were more charred than the rest of the body strengthened police belief that it was a gang killing, as they believed a special effort had been made by the killers to preclude the possibility of identification by fingerprints. If the dead man had had no police record this would hardly have been necessary they pointed out, as only the fingerprints of a man with a police record would be available for checking.

Chicken Thieves Raid Wm. Helfrich Farm Near Dixon

A flock of about 50 capons on the William Helfrich poultry farm east of Dixon on the River road was almost completely wiped out by thieves over the week end. Saturday night while the family was away from home, 13 of the birds were taken. Last night about 11 o'clock as the members of the family drove into the yard two men were seen to run from the chicken house.

Mr. Helfrich fired seven shots in their direction and one of the men stumbled, but they succeeded in getting away with 34 more of the birds. Sheriff Miller was called and found a hat which presumably belonged to one of the men and a number of bur-lap sacks, but the thieves succeeded in making their getaway.

GIRL IS DROWNED

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 6—(AP)—Miss Gladys Whittington, 18, of West Frankfort, was drowned late yesterday when a box in which she was riding with three companions capsized in Big Lake at Shawneetown. Miss Whittington was this only member of the boating party who could not swim. Miss Dorothy Wade and Otto Morgan of West Frankfort and Bert Smith of Herrin, swam to safety after their rescue efforts proved futile. The body recovered ten hours after the tragedy, was brought here today.

BLACKMER ARREST MAY BE MADE ANY TIME BY FRENCH

Papers In Case Have Arrived in Paris—Speedy Action Expected

Paris, Aug. 6—(AP)—Formal demand for extradition of Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness wanted in Denver for perjury, was made ten days ago by the American embassy acting on instructions from the state department.

The legal department of the French foreign office considered no action could be taken until the documents in the case had arrived and been examined.

These have now reached Paris. They were sent by special messenger and have been transmitted to the foreign office. It was said there that a decision might be reached speedily.

In the meantime Blackmer will be kept under surveillance by the French authorities who are not disposed to arrest him until a decision is reached.

Blackmer returned to Paris from Trouville this morning going to his usual residence, the Hotel Plaza Athenee. He had read the newspapers and came up to consult friends. He will probably return to Trouville in a day or two.

Blackmer has rented a cottage at Trouville where his daughter, Mrs. Kistler and her children, are spending the summer with him.

Blackmer's general position in resisting extradition is understood to be that he came to France on a holiday two or three months before there was any question of his testifying, but that while here agitation arose and he decided not to return.

His attitude is that he has not been in hiding and that his movements have been quite public. He has been unwilling, however, to discuss his case with newspapermen.

The extradition procedure in France is fairly rapid, but must follow rigid legal form.

SPECIAL ATTORNEY EN ROUTE

Denver, Aug. 6—(AP)—Empowered to attempt extradition from his self-imposed exile in France of Henry M. Blackmer, a special attorney is en route there to press Colorado's claims for service on the missing key witness in the Teapot Dome case.

Richard C. Callen, United States Marshal here, yesterday said that the attorney, whose identity he did not reveal, sailed last week with papers calling on the French government to apprehend the former head of the Mid-West Refining Company, and hold him for deliverance to a United States law officer.

Blackmer is wanted here on indictments charging perjury in connection with alleged failure to make proper income tax returns. A federal grand jury brought the indictments June 15 following filing on June 4 of liens against his property in Denver and New York for a total of $498,935.78.

If the attorney's mission is successful, Callen will go to France with a presidential warrant, calling for the oil man's return to the United States, he said.

Some Hot Games in Industrial League

Three hot games are assured Industrial League fans this week, the first of which will be played at the Singer diamond this evening at 5:30 o'clock when the Merchants and Reynolds wire weavers will mix. Bob Woodruff, veteran of many a hot engagement on the mound in years gone by, will again pitch for the wire weavers, making his second start in an Industrial League battle. Wednesday the I. N. U. and J. I. Case Co. teams, whose last two meetings have resulted in tied games, will clash. A postponed game will be probably be played tomorrow or Thursday evening, announcement of which will be made later.

Franklin Grove Filling Station Robbed In Night

The filling station in the west limits of Franklin Grove on the Lincoln Highway was entered and robbed during the night, a quantity of candy and cigars valued at about $10 being taken. A screen was removed and a window jammed in order to gain entrance. Deputy Sheriff Frank Miller of Franklin Grove was notified of the robbery this morning and is conducting an investigation.

BUY ILLINOIS PEACHES

The Chamber of Commerce has been advised that Illinois peaches will be on the Dixon markets from August 6 to 31st. All local grocery stores will handle them. The Chamber of Commerce suggests that Dixon people avail themselves of this opportunity to buy peaches raised in our own state.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

BROKE LEG HERE SUNDAY

Clarence Pratt, of Sterling, conductor of the Chicago & North Western's "turn-around" way freight, suffered a fracture of his right leg below the knee at about 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, while helping with the switching in the local yards. In alighting from the side ladder of a car he slipped and fell in such a manner as to fracture the bone of the leg. The company's local surgeon was called and reduced the fracture after which the injured man was taken to his home in Sterling.

GLEN COE HONORED

AUTO BRAKES ON FIRE

The fire department was summoned to Seventh street and Hennepin avenue last night about 8:45, where the brakes of an automobile had caught fire. The blaze was extinguished with but slight damage to the machine.

IN POLICE COURTS

Richard Eberly and Levi Scarbrough were arrested last Saturday afternoon on West Sixth street for participating in a fight over the ownership of a car. Both were arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court where fines of $10 and costs each were assessed on charges of assault and battery. Scarbrough was able to pay his fine and Eberly was sent to the county jail.

Henry Rice was fined $10 and costs by Justice Shaulis in police court Sunday morning on a charge of operating an automobile without license plates.

O. F. Hendricks was arrested yesterday for double parking on Galena avenue and when arraigned before Justice Grover Gehant in police court, was assessed a fine of $3 and costs.

Gus Hasselman, arrested Sunday afternoon in the west end of the city was fined $10 and costs by Justice J. O. Shaulis on a charge of intoxication.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

David Solomon, of Pontiac, Ill., was arrested here about 1 o'clock this morning upon receipt of word from State Highway Officer Larson of DeKalb, who requested the police to take him in custody. When arraigned before Justice Grover Gehant in police court, he paid a fine of $10 and costs on a speeding charge.

WARNER WILL TALK

Attorney H. C. Warner will address the members of the Dixon Kiwanis club at the regular meeting at noon tomorrow, giving an account of his recent visit to Havana, Cuba, and the country surrounding.

DISREGARDED FUNERAL FLAGS

Harold Bench of Chicago told State Highway Officer Hal Roberts that he could not distinguish a funeral procession from an ordinary line of traffic and that there was no law which compelled him to read the daily papers so that he might learn the significance of white flags on cars. The explanation was not satisfactory to the officer and Bench was taken to the county jail Sunday afternoon where he attempted the same explanation before Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson with the effect except that the magistrate assessed a fine of $5 and costs for the offense and advised the Chicagoan to better acquaint himself with conditions which are likely to be met in traffic.

SKIDDED INTO DITCH

A Buick touring car owned and driven by Vernon Cook of Chicago, skidded on the paving on the Lincoln Highway near the Lincoln pavillion Saturday evening and turned over in the ditch. The driver's mother, two sons and a young woman who was riding with them to Clinton to spend the week-end, escaped with but minor cuts and bruises and a general shaking up. Two wheels of the car were crushed and the side of the machine considerably damaged, necessitating its being removed to a Sterling garage for repairs.

CAR TURNS OVER

A Buick coach owned by Frank Gunder of Polo turned over three times Saturday evening a quarter of a mile east of Kavanaugh's corner north of Wauson on state highway route 26 Saturday evening. The car was slightly damaged but the occupants escaped with only minor injuries and a general shaking up. The wrecked machine was taken to a garage at Polo.

TAKE ME BACK TO THE DAYS OF MY YOUTH—

Back to the days of my innocent youth.
I long to behold those blessed visions of truth.
When working or playing at home as a lad
I used to be happy and cheerful and glad.
Dear father and mother have been called away
To that Heavenly Haven where night is all day;
The children have left the parentless fold,
So no one is left of the dear days of old.

Back to the time when my spirit was young,
Sing me those songs as they used to be sung;
Take me to the homestead, dismantled, forlorn,
Surrounded by stalks of the bright, golden corn.
The old apple tree is the one welcome now,
Where sister and I shook the fruit from the bough;
The jolly, good times that I had when a boy,
Crowns crinkled old age with a halo of joy.

May those memories, dear,
Of yon yesteryear,
Still abide while my youth fades away.
When my back is bent low,
And my step has grown slow,
May those memories brighten my day.

Franklin Grove.

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Sliced peaches, soft cooked eggs, bread crumb pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Stuffed baked potatoes, lettuce sandwiches, lemonade.
DINNER—Ham and potato pie, apple, celery and nut salad, gooseberry pie, milk, coffee.

Ham and Potato Pie
Four or five potatoes 1 cup minced cooked ham, 1 cup cooked tiny onions, 1-2 cups cooked peas, 4 tablespoons butter.
Boil potatoes in their "jackets." When tender peel and mash. Season well with salt and pepper and butter and beat in enough milk to make light. Put a layer into a well buttered baking dish, add a layer of ham, one of peas and one of onions. Dot each layer of vegetables with butter. Continue with layer for layer until all is used, making the last layer of potatoes. Put into a hot oven to brown the top and serve from baking dish. (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

Engagement of Dixon Girl Was Announced

Miss Frances Zoeller was hostess at a very charming party on Saturday evening at her home, 820 Sixth street, at which time the announcement of the engagement of her friend, Miss Martha Stanley, granddaughter of Mrs. Jane Stanley, of Dixon, to Donald B. Johnson, of Elgin, was made known. Beautiful decorations in pink and orchid were emphasized in fragrant phlox in these colors.

Bridge was the amusement for the evening and Miss Stanley was awarded the favor for high honors, and was also presented with a lovely guest favor. Miss Gracia Johnson of Los Angeles, Cal., the guest of Miss Louise Brewster, was awarded the favor for second score at ridge. After bridge delicious refreshments were served. Tallies and candles further carried out the dainty color combination of orchid and pink and also in the attractive individual corsage bouquets at each guest's place. Attached to each charming corsage was a card bearing the name of Miss Stanley and Mr. Johnson, the engagement being in this way announced. The wedding to take place soon. Miss Stanley is an attractive young woman with many friends.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUDDER

But it seems that there are a few maybe more than a few women Democrats who aren't dry and who are not embarrassing the party right now by rearing up a la Mrs. Clem Shaver and denouncing Al Smith and insisting they'll work against him rather than for him. Just about as many Democratic women are embarrassing their W. C. T. U. and other dry affiliations by insisting that they will vote for Al Smith and that his prohibition views are sound. Just another way of saying that women are people, and that the much-named "woman's viewpoint" is rather silly. Not all women are "dry" any more than all men are "wet."

CANNIBAL SKEETERS
A man might call the importation of cannibal mosquitoes to gobble up less exotic skeeters plain tomfoolishness. So its a woman, Mrs. Charles Williams of Flushing, Queens, who is importing the cannibals from France to take care of the fearful skeeter problem of Flushing. Whats more, it may work. Some of these man-labeled "foolies" of women do, you know.

TIGER AND SEA
Here's another piece of grist for the mill of those who dote on lurid tales of "the younger generation." The girl friend of young Merton Hoyt of Washington, D. C., brother of Authores Nancy Hoyt who has had a few public entertaining exploits of her own dared him to jump overboard. He did. When they picked him up he was rather exhausted. Human nature hasn't changed so much despite our prattle about the changed relationship twist men and women. Centuries ago ladies dared their swains to jump into the lion's den after a little glove and the gentle men jumped.

UNWED MOTHERS
Some unwed mother facts found by a June graduate of a Social Science school in a big city may be of interest. The student followed 58 illegitimate cases which were closed in social records with the notation, "Child placed with mother." She found that 21 of the 58 married men were not the fathers of their babies. Only 5 of these marriages were successful. Of the 8 women who married the fathers of their children, only 3 found any success in the marriage. Two of the 21 who married other men were deserted. Two deserted the men, taking their babies with them; 3 have started divorce action, 5 are still in the first year of

Mary Philbin Will Wed Film Executive

Announcement has been made in Los Angeles of the approaching marriage of Mary Philbin, movie actress, to Paul Kohler, an executive of the Universal studios. The romance began three years ago when Miss Philbin went as a featured actress to the Universal studios where Kohler was casting director.

marriage. The 24 unmarried mothers seem happiest by the simple process of parking their children with "the old folks," stepping out and getting a job, and proceeding to have a good time again. Once more, the parents pay and pay and pay! But it's their own fault—they raise children to expect it!

"LADY DERBIES"
"Lady Derbies" are the latest craze of Jaded European society, we learn. Beautiful countesses and baronesses and princesses in smart Berlin dress in bathing suits, wear jockey caps and colored armlets with numbers, and hotfoot it down a stretch in a secluded wooded part of the city. There is pari-mutuel betting, husbands and lovers of favorites staking huge sums on their particular ladies.

I suppose one should be shocked at this manifestation of these perilous times. But, after all, why? The exercise must be as good as that from golf or tennis, and it must be a pretty sight as well.

AIRY PRINTED FABRICS LENGTHEN HEM LINE—

Paris —(AP)—Printed crepe de chimes and chiffons by reason of their airy qualities are ushering in a slight increase in the length of skirts.
The extra length is achieved by means of draperies and irregular points which lengthen the skirt almost without appearing to do so.
The extreme peacock-like long backs are much less frequent than they were a short time ago. Trains, however, are not uncommon for dresses for extremely formal occasions.

Hodges-Ellefson Wedding of Interest

Miss Gretchen Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hodges of Aberdeen, Wash., was married July 16, to Raymond Ellefson of Canton, S. D., the ceremony being performed in the Hodges home. Mrs. F. B. McCreary, also formerly of Amboy, a sister of the bride was present for the nuptial event.

Miss Caroline Hodges, sister of the bride, sang "At Dawning." Miss Hodges was also maid of honor. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon made in bouffant style, designed by Soutle. Combined with this was Mechlin lace. Her bridal veil was of tulle and held in place with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's and Cecil Bruener roses, sweet peas and baby breath. The tiny rose buds were tied in the ribbon showers. The wedding collation was served to the guests in the dining room. The centerpiece was composed of pink orchid sweet peas and pink candles in gleaming candle sticks added to the effect. Mrs. McCreary assisted in the pouring during the serving hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellefson left on a trip for Lake Chelan. The bride departed dressed in a rose-colored tulle crepe dress with hat to match. Her coat was white and she wore a corsage of pink rose buds.

The newlyweds will be at home to their friends in Aberdeen, Wash., after September 1, at 415 W. Sixth street.

Many Amboy friends extend best wishes on the happy event.

Short Interviews with Famous Women

International amity is the real aim of the "Good-Will Tour to Europe" that 60 American business and professional women are making this summer, according to Lena Madelin Phillips, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, leader of the group.

"We do not necessarily expect to return from Europe with an international federation immediately insured," Miss Phillips said, on departing.

"But we do expect to lay the foundations for a strong organization at some future time. As women, we all believe in international peace. As a first step towards better understanding we want to see how European women work, what progress they are making, what new vocations are opening up to them, whether they are having the same difficulties and the same solutions we have."

Women play an increasingly important part in the development of each of the great countries of the world. A mutual understanding between women of all countries cannot fail to be a helpful factor in bringing about that great eventuality we all so earnestly desire, lasting peace."

FASHION HINTS—LONGER SIDES

New Paris hats have a tendency to lengthen the right side of the brim and crown. One bascule colored cloche has a flat seagull motif on its drooping right side.

NEW JUMPER

A black pleated skirt is topped by a chartreuse crepe jumper with a row of tiny jet buttons running from the right shoulder to the left hip-line.

SHORT CAPES

Lace frocks, especially, use the cape mode. One tailored cardigan suit of lace has a feminine cape in the back to relieve the severe lines.

LEAF GREEN

A new chiffon frock with a double flounce that runs up the back to fashion a cut little bustle effect is in leaf green print.

RUFFLED COLLARS

Accordion pleated ruffles follow the collar line on many new frocks. A cream georgette uses slencon lace to edge its ruffle.

TWO-TIERED SKIRT

The two-tiered skirt registers success in mid-summer apparel. The upper tier is apt to be longer than the lower, and fuller.

BROWN GROUNDS

New prints in red, lilac, cream, pink and tan favor brown backgrounds, predicting an unusual vogue for brown this autumn.

NEW GOWN

A coral colored Ninon gown has a bertha that make tiny caps over its sleeveless arms. All edgings are bound with scarlet.

JABOT FINISH

A cream crepe de chine gown has dainty revers and little jabot of self-material, edged and embroidered in orchid.

BLACK-WHITE

A stunning new lingerie set of panties, shirt and gown use white ninon, embroidered in black and white tony flowers, with black satin shoulder ribbons and narrow bindings.

MILKY WAY

Tiny silver stars, sprinkled in wide strips of light blue on a dark blue background, like the milky way, make a lovely new silk for the skirt, kerchief and handkerchief of a suit with navy blue cordigan.

DEEP CUFFS

Grey and red braid form very deep cuffs and a very small collar on a new mid-summer topcoat of grey gasna.

THE NEW VOTERS.

The number of persons who have become voting age since the last national election is variously estimated up to 10 millions, or about a fourth of the total vote. On the subject of direction these new voters will take, the St. Paul Pioneer Press says:

"It is certainly confusing to the young student of politics, who has been told that Jefferson founded the democratic party as the champion of local self-government, when he reads President Coolidge's frequent speeches advocating that identical principle. And again, as Dr. Butler suggests, what is one to make of party distinctions when President Jackson, another democratic founder, rebuked Calhoun in the voice of Hamilton, great adversary of Jefferson?"

But, how many of these have read President Coolidge's addresses, or even have been lured by the fascination of hearing the president's voice to listen to them over the radio to any length? How many will compare the Coolidge principles to the Jeffersonian principles? How many will reflect back upon their lessons in history to the thundering of Andrew Jackson against nullification in South Carolina, and of these how many will interpret it as comparable to Alexander Hamilton?

The number may or may not be in proportion to the number of older voters who will have the same thoughts. The chances are that they will consider creeds and cracked ice to the exclusion of the principles of Hamilton, Jefferson, Jackson and Coolidge. They will consider the things they hear talked most about, and they will not hear much about Hamilton and Jefferson and the fundamental principles of government.

Claude Bowers, in his address as temporary chairman of the democratic convention, played heavily on the Hamilton and Jefferson keys, but when he had finished thoughts of southern democrats turned only to black keys and white keys and those of northern democrats to locker keys, and the thundering tones of Mr. Bowers were wafted off on the Gulf of Mexico.

It is of no use to talk of fundamentals in government during the heat of a campaign. We may try to educate the people on these principles between campaigns, but it is doubtful even then how far we get.

The young folks will chatter about wets and dries and will assume to speak with wisdom, but the voter who becomes 21 years of age this year was only 9 when the saloon went out. They may know what "conditions" are now, but they don't know what they were then. If they would discuss the situation wisely, they should know that the savings banks, the retailers, including the gasoline stations, and the picture shows are getting the money that used to go to the saloons. The corner filling station has taken the place of the corner saloon. The family spends the money now, but the pay check used to be cashed at the saloon.

That is the issue in this campaign and it has been made the issue deliberately. The personal element will enter, as always, and that is likely to govern as many of the new voters as any other. An effort has been made by democrats to sink the prosperity issue, and they are likely to be successful in that among the new voters. Young folks know nothing of the adversity that has accompanied democratic administrations. Experience is the best teacher on that issue.

If the 10 million new voters all went one way, they would be a determining factor in the election, but in the south they will be democrats, and in the north they will be variously distributed according to whether or not they think dad is a great man or a back number.

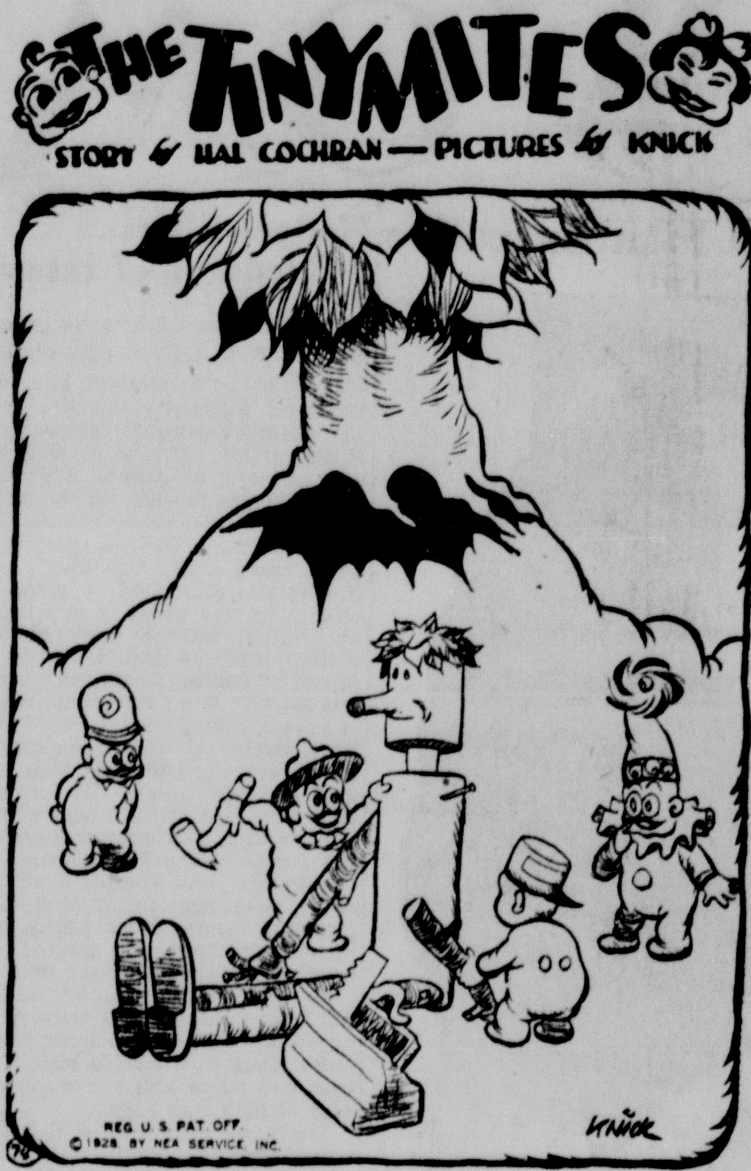

New Yorkers have learned that Al Smith, when a legislator introduced a bill to prohibit the manufacture, sale or use of cigarettes. Now Tammany doesn't know whether to boast of it or try to hush it up.

A Cleveland man pawned his wooden leg for $12.50. Sounds like one step towards getting something to eat.

Numerous young couples, have journey to Canada this year to eat, drink and be married.

The boy who used to take his watch apart to see why it worked is the man who now takes his car apart to see why it doesn't.

Just an argument in favor of cement pavements: New York boy fell five stories, landed on one, and lived.

The Tinymites all stopped in awe. My, they were shocked by what they saw. The wooden man, still in the blaze, was burning at the waist. "Hey, hurry up and rescue me," he shouted. "Can't you Tinymites see that I will shortly burn to pieces if you don't make haste?"

"Oh, my! Oh, my! Oh, my! Oh, my!" The Tinymites heard Scoury cry. "Our wooden man has fallen in our fire. He's burning fast. Where is some water? Get a pail!" But this plan was to no avail. They couldn't find a pail nearby. My, how long would this last?

Then Clowdy had a nappy thought. Said he, "Come on! I think we ought to do our best to rescue him. Imagine all that heat! Let's drag him out across the ground where we know he'll be safe and sound. If we all help, we'll do it by just pulling on his feet. And so the Tines, brave and bold, rushed wildly up and grabbed a hold. "Now pull!" exclaimed Wee Coppy. "Pull real hard, with all your might." It took brave Coppy to inspire the bunch to pull him from the fire. The wooden man cried, "Thank you! My, but I'm an awful sight!"

"Now, don't you worry," Carpy said. "The hot flames did not touch your head. In fact your body is the only thing that's burned a bit. I'll tell you what we'll do for you. We'll make a body, all brand new. As soon as we have done that, you'll again be looking fit."

They smoothed a log that seemed too rough, and sawed it down just long enough. The wooden man looked on and said, "Oh, gee, what that be mine?" One Tiny answered, "Sure it will! This body ought to bring a thrill!" And then it didn't take them long to fix the man up fine.

(A tiger gives the Tines a scare in the next story.)

HEALTH & DIET ADVICE
By Dr. Frank McCoy
The Best Way to Health

Dr. McCoy, Los Angeles specialist, will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Telegraph. Enclose stamped, addressed, large envelope for reply.

FATIGUE POISON
A person who overworks, without obtaining sufficient rest or sleep, actually poisons his system with fatigue toxins. Our bodies are continually using or burning up food which leaves a kind of waste product like gas fumes and ashes. When we exercise, these products are produced much more abundantly.

These waste products must be promptly removed from the muscles and tissues, or they will interfere with the processes of metabolism. When they accumulate in our blood they become the symptoms of fatigue. It has been proven that when the blood of the fatigued person is injected into another, the sense of weariness is transmitted to the second person.

Life is a continual process of building up and tearing down. Fresh substances are being continually absorbed and become a part of our tissues, and waste products are being continually discharged. The same blood which carries the nutritive elements to the tissues also carries away their waste products.

A tired person is a person poisoned by his own waste products. In order to protect us against this, Nature has provided means for our body to destroy these poisons or to discharge them through eliminative organs. When these poisons are removed from the blood we feel refreshed.

Many diseases are brought on by fatigue. You may have noticed that your colds usually develop after you have been over-tired. This is because the poisons of fatigue had formed in your body, and the tired eliminative organs were not working at their full strength and allowed the poisons to accumulate. During rest and sleep these organs have an opportunity to purify the body.

The fact is that the elimination of these toxic substances will make one feel stronger and this is one of the reasons why patients, often feel stronger after fasting for eight or ten days. Many times they feel easily exhausted at the beginning of a fruit fast, because of the stirring up of toxins in the body, and then they actually begin to feel stronger day by day until their systems have become more cleansed. An irresistible hunger will make itself felt when the body needs food.

A feeling of weakness is not usually an indication that the body needs food. It either means that the body needs rest or that poisons have been allowed to accumulate within the body. Sleep provides the rest for the nervous system.

Most cases of serious chronic diseases, such as tuberculosis and cancer are prepared for by the condition of body poisoning and nervous enervation.

It is well known that extreme cases of exhaustion lead to death from toxic poisoning. Fatigue is Nature's warning that it is time to rest, and it is well to stop any activity as soon as one feels fatigued. If you use coffee and stimulants to spur yourself on when you feel tired, you are simply using up your reserve energy and shortening your life.

AVOID EYE TROUBLE
The process of seeing requires an almost unbelievable amount of energy. It is estimated that about one fifth of our nervous energy is spent in this manner. You can readily understand that where there is a definite defect in the vision, this strain may be greatly increased.

The introduction of scientifically made glasses has added many years to the life of the average person. Man can now continue to enjoy life through many additional years where formerly he had to sit in his armchair and wait for the end.

The operation from eye strain is such an important factor in causing disease, that I discuss this with every patient who comes to me in my private practice. No diagnosis of disease can be accurate if the physician does not inquire into the amount of energy that a patient wastes through eye fatigue.

The eye is a marvelous organ and is necessarily very sensitive to convey the delicate shadow impressions from the outside world to the optic nerve so that these impulses may be impressed upon the center of vision in the brain.

One who possesses perfect eyesight is indeed fortunate, because such an individual will usually live longer, have better health and learn more through observation than one with imperfect sight. Where there is a definite eye defect, it is a possible cause of headaches, wasted vitality and even functional or organic diseases. These defects are also possible through a straining of the eyes from faulty light and bad reading habits, even when there is no actual defect in the eye itself.

The optometrists of today are highly trained specialists who have become educated through an intensive training, and they are better able to examine the eyes and discover the errors of vision than is the average physician.

Some of the defects of vision can only be corrected through using the right kind of glasses, but the majority of cases can undoubtedly be benefited through developing good habits of reading and the additional help of electrical treatments, diet and eye exercises.

I have prepared a series of eye exercises for strengthening the muscles and improving the circulation of the eye. If anyone desires this article, he should send me a large self-addressed, stamped envelope and I will be glad to mail him this article without charge.

If you wish to preserve your eyesight, you should avoid the glare of direct light into the eye, or a direct reflection from shiny paper. The best light comes over the left shoulder onto the paper.

Do not try to read in a flickering light or in direct sunlight. The best artificial light is from indirect sources or from powerful frosted globes. Learn to stop your reading as soon as your eyes feel tired. It is not good to continue reading a book all night long simply because one becomes interested in the story. Avoid doing work that requires a close application, such as fine needle work or reading very small type. Reading on trains while objects are being passed is enervating to the eyes, as is sitting too close to a motion picture screen.

Do not wear improperly fitted glasses. It is a poor economy to pay fifteen to twenty-five cents for your glasses when they may ruin your vision. There are often injurious effects from glasses even though they seem to fit. Only a scientific examination can determine the correct glasses.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mrs. W. writes: "My skin is slowly turning a dead white in patches. I have doctored faithfully, and used several medicines, both internal and external, but to no avail. I want to get at the cause of the trouble, but I am becoming discouraged and am going to give up unless you can help me."

ANSWER: A good fast for a week or ten days will stop the acidosis which is causing the destruction of the coloring matter in your skin. Then, living on a good diet will keep you from having any more of these white spots form. Sometimes, if the spots are not too large, they can be successfully treated with radiations from the ultra-violet light, and the skin pigment will at least partially return.

QUESTION: Mrs. J. D. writes: "Please advise if oatmeal as it comes from the package is bad for the digestion or otherwise unhealthful. I have a friend who eats it this way, and claims it is healthful."

ANSWER: The crushed oatmeal sold in package form is a good cereal to use if you do not spoil it by adding sugar. Oatmeal should be cooked for a long time by steaming, and seasoned with only cream or butter.

QUESTION: Mrs. K. L. writes: "Six months ago I had a small birthmark on my breast treated with the electric needle. Now this place is all healed up but stays tender and sore. The doctor that treated it says it is a keloid that caused the trouble and wants to treat it with x-ray or radium. Another doctor told me the x-ray would only enlarge the keloid. What am I to do?"

ANSWER: Find a doctor who has the ultra-violet light apparatus and he will know how to treat your keloid. These keloids should not form from the use of the electric spark if it is properly used. Sometimes, the further treatment with the electric needle will assist in removing the keloid, but be sure and find a competent physician who is well trained in electro-therapy.

QUESTION: W. L. writes: "Have been troubled for a long time with an itching under the arms. Please tell me a cure."

ANSWER: Do everything you can to produce more skin elimination. Take a sweat bath two or three times weekly, or induce a daily sweat by vigorous exercises. Take one or two shower baths daily. Local application to the parts are dangerous and are not necessary.

QUESTION: D. L. J. writes: "I have followed your diet, exercises, etc., and have been helped wonderfully, and have reduced all parts of my body but my stomach. Some people tell me a large stomach is hereditary. Is this correct? Or is there something I can do to reduce my stomach?"

ANSWER: The only way you can reduce the size of your abdomen is through taking vigorous physical culture exercises, principally those taken while lying on the back. Dieting alone will not reduce a protruding abdomen, although the size will diminish somewhat if only small amounts of food are used. Measure your circumference with a tape measure, then start in with the exercises, and every week you will be able to note a reduction in the size of this part of your body.

QUESTION: "What treatment do you advise for multiple sclerosis? What is the cause? Violet rays have brought back the feeling to patient's limbs and he has use of them, but a numbness comes over him at times."

ANSWER: The fundamental cause of multiple sclerosis is the poison of toxic materials in the spinal cord resulting from a faulty diet. The patient you write of will get quick results by taking a fruit fast for a week or ten days followed by a well-balanced diet. Treatment such as massage, osteopathy, chiropractic and electrotherapy will be helpful in restoring the circulation to the affected parts.

POLO PERSONALS

Polo—The Pal Club held their annual picnic at the Frank Gilbert home Wednesday. The roll call was answered by each member giving a short sketch of some famous woman. A large attendance was present. A most interesting program was given in the afternoon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Laura Davis.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Mary's church met at the rectory Thursday. The afternoon was spent in playing 500. Mrs. Thomas Naylon received first prize and Mrs. M. J. Naylon won the consolation prize. Delicious refreshments were served.

Rev. Olin Shaw and family of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, spent the past several days with the former's mother, Mrs. Anna Shaw.

Mrs. Hattie Hirsch of Iowa, is the guest of Miss Ella Holly.

Mrs. George Reichold of Chicago, is a guest in the Roy Beck home.

Mrs. O. G. Owens will leave Sunday for Philadelphia, where she and her husband will make their future home. Mr. Owens left several weeks ago.

Mrs. Frank Kneise of Dixon spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Cora Pomberger.

Mrs. George Wales of Lanark spent the past several days with her sister, Mrs. M. G. Coffey and family.

James Angle of Harrisburg, Penn., came Wednesday, called here by the death of his nephew, Ray Kramer, who was buried at Mt. Carroll Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes of Marshalltown, Iowa, spent Wednesday with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Sprecher and family.

Sheriff and Mrs. S. P. Good of Oregon attended the band concert Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ben Harmon of Evanston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis.

Mrs. Wilson and family of Kankakee are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Emma Cross.

Mrs. Mollie Geeting entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the Evangelical church Thursday. A delicious scramble dinner was enjoyed at noon. The afternoon was spent socially.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred French, Mr. and Mrs. Orville French, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sues, Mr. and Mrs. Ida Barnes left Wednesday for a camping trip through Wisconsin.

Misses Anna Better and Anna Cox spent Friday afternoon in Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powers and daughter, Mary Jane of Logansport, Ind., Mrs. Frank Vogler and children of Portage, Wis., are guests of Mrs. Margaret Savage. Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Vogler are sisters of Mrs. Savage.

Now that house cleaning time has arrived you wish to dispose of. A 50c ad in the Dixon Telegraph is bound to bring results.

Chicago.—(AP)—Still theorizing on the origin of "30", newspaper men and telegraphers annually produce numerous solutions for the mystery, but may never know the real story. Francis H. Williams has written for the forthcoming August number of The Inland Printer issued here.

"Perhaps," Williams wrote, "after considering all theories, 'we may never desire to get at the root of the matter, for it would result in discarding all but one of the many deep-rooted convictions which have become more or less traditions in various parts of the country."

"After all, newspapermen have a streak of romance in them."

Reviewing the various theories, Mr. Williams tells that "an old time Western Union operator" declared that "30" did not originate in newspaper offices at all, but was adopted from the Western Union.

"Probably one of the most convincing of all theories concerns the early days of the west. Before the newspapers had special wires in their offices the telegraph operator would write out the dispatches in long hand and send them to the newspaper by messenger. He would close his office at three o'clock and at the bottom of the last sheet would write 'three o'clock' signifying 'the last'."

"This was corrupted gradually into the form of '3 o'clock' shortened still further to read '3 o'clock', then to '3 o'clock' and finally to '30'."

Springfield.—(AP)—Veterans of the World War of Springfield, Lincoln, Decatur, Taylorville, Jacksonville, Beardstown, and Carlinville and vicinity will be guests of Sangamon Post of the American Legion at a stag picnic on fish fry at the Bull Calves club grounds, west of Springfield, Thursday afternoon and night, August 16.

The route from Springfield will be plainly marked for autoists and ample parking space will be provided, with police supervisors.

LONDON EXPRESS DARES
GOVERNMENT TO LET IT
RUN TELEPHONE SYSTEM

The Daily Express of London, England, has challenged the government to place the telephone business of the kingdom in its hands. There is a growing public demand that this business, now conducted by the British Post Office Department, be turned over to private interests. The Express, in its offer, guarantees to increase present profits and to insure more efficient service. The newspaper compares the British telephone service very unfavorably with that of the United States.

AVIATION OPENS BIG FIELD FOR NATION'S YOUTH

Flying Becoming One of the Big Industries of
United States

BY FRED HIGH

Flying, without doubt, is the most gripping subject in the civilized world today.

Although flyers, flying machines and flying fields are the talk of the day, comparatively few have thought of aviation as an industry. It is not generally known that there are now approximately one hundred airplane producing companies in the United States and practically a thousand producers and distributors of accessories, spare parts, etc., and that trade leaders are predicting a total aircraft production of fully 15,000 during the year 1928.

This is a tremendous increase over the production of 1927, the total for that year being 1,962. The years 1926 and 1927 have shown a great expansion in the production of commercial aircraft, both of those years showing that two-thirds of the total production was in the commercial division. In the tremendous expansion predicted for this year, the commercial division will have the lion's share.

That this newest of industries is destined to open a new commercial era as great as that which followed the development of the railroad is the opinion of such an eminent engineer as Grover Cleveland Loening.
The fact that a large automobile company has gone into the production of flying machines on a large scale, shows that the possibilities for development has attracted the business sense of the greatest money-maker the world has ever known. A great rubber company, with millions of capital and a great plant is building dirigible machines for commercial use and just recently secured a contract from the U. S. Government for two mammoth dirigibles for the U. S. Navy.

It is certain that each year will bring more and more demand for trained, capable aviators who can transport people and merchandise with safety and dispatch; that each year will bring more and more demand for skilled mechanics and those trained for the development of this new industry.

Parents would do well to consider aviation as a possible field for the life work of their children. To start the young people in this great new development, the most authentic books on the art and science of aviation should be in every school library. If such books are provided, the young people can get the funda-mentals of aviation at home.

Chambers of Commerce and Service Clubs that are now providing or planning to provide airports for their towns should familiarize themselves with the entire subject of aerial development.

I read many books on aviation.
The most comprehensive work that I have read, and the best to start with, is "Modern Aircraft," a new book by Major Victor M. Page, Air Corps U. S. R. It deals with the basic principles of airplane flight and aerofoil design. It is a complete reference and instruction manual for home, school and shop use. Major Page is an internationally recognized authority on automotive engineering.
His "A B C of Aviation" has been adopted as a text-book in more than fifty colleges and aviation schools.

"Modern Aircraft," just off the press, is an up-to-date treatise. All late types of dirigibles, airplanes and accessories are considered, and the underlying principles of aerodynam-ics and the manner in which all type of aircraft fly is explained in understandable terms.

We have stressed the need of study at home for the young, for we find that the young men who enter the aviation schools (where the tuition is $500.00) get much more out of their training if they have had the advantage of such study and information as we have outlined.

Flyers learn to fly in the air, but they learn much faster if they have the knowledge of the mechanics involved.

Dixon Soldier is Assigned to Hawaii

New York, N. Y., Aug. 6—Private
Elmer C. Bisbee, son of Mrs. Mae B.
Lawson of Dixon, Ill., who recently enlisted for service with the Coast
Artillery branch of the Regular Army, has been assigned to duty with troops in Hawaii, and left New York City aboard the United States
Army Transport "Chateau Thierry" for Honolulu.

Upon his arrival at Honolulu Private Bisbee and the young men who sailed with him will be assigned to units in the Hawaiian Islands, located at posts which generally lie adjacent to internationally famous resorts and tourist shrines. Soldiers on Hawaiian duty enjoy unusual recreational privileges, there being provided for them summer rest camps where all may go for a two-week period during vacation time. Always within reach is the far-famed beach of Waikiki, and the surf bathing resort at Haleiwa.

Athletics play an important part in the life of soldiers in Hawaii, and every organization prides itself on a galaxy of teams in the prospective championship class in every sport.
The climate is ideal, for it is a land that knows no winter, and outdoor sports thrive the year round.

Private Bisbee will remain in the Hawaiian Department for approximately two years, when he will be returned to the United States, for discharge having in the meantime enjoyed a ten thousand dollar outing, including a visit to Panama and San Francisco, at the expense of Uncle Sam.

SCHEDULED FOR NIGHT OF AUG. 11
Meteors To Put On Annual Spectacular Display

BY NEA Service
Washington.—The earth is about to keep its annual date with Perseids and anyone who cares to stay up until after midnight on the night of Aug. 11 has a good chance of getting an eye full.

On that night, one is certain, according to the astronomers, to observe a brilliant shower of shooting stars. One can see meteors on other nights in the year, but the show put on by the Perseids is the biggest and most brilliant of all.

This way and that, they shoot; almost horizontally. It is also the most regular, for one may see it every year as the earth passes through this cluster of meteoric fragments revolving in space.

We have been passing through this area since the early part of July. The meteors are quite numerous from Aug. 5 to 15 and Aug. 10 to 13 always produces large numbers of flaming Perseids, especially after midnight.

Best After Midnight
But Captain C. S. Freeman, superintendent of the naval observatory here, says that the period of utmost intensity, with the biggest and most meteors, will be between 2 and 3 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 12.

After that, the earth will begin to edge out of this meteor belt. These meteor showers, Captain Freeman explains, follow in about the same periods as comets. The Perseids shower comes just at the time the earth is crossing the orbit of Tuttle's comet of 1862, which we will not see again until 1935. These meteors form a closed ring or endless chain along the comet's path and the earth always finds them in its annual visit.

The Perseids are meteoric fragments breaking off the racing cluster. As they strike the earth's atmosphere friction develops so much heat that they are generally entirely consumed before they hit the earth. Some of them, however, are too large to succumb to incandescence and reach the ground, whence they are unearthed and placed in museums. The remains prove to be some form of iron in most cases, though some have a rock base.

The flaming Perseids are to be seen in the northern sky. Indications are, according to Captain Freeman, that they will be visible from most parts of the United States.

The most brilliant meteor shower on record was that of Nov. 13, 1833. Hundreds of thousands of shooting stars fell within two or three hours and the spectacle was witnessed generally throughout North America. Many persons thought that the end of the world had come and some observers compared the display to a celestial snowstorm.

How brilliant will be the August shower of this year cannot yet be determined. Sometimes it dazzles the whole heavens. Last year at least 40 large meteors were seen, traveling as fast in some cases as 30 or 40 miles a second.

Reach High Temperature
The velocity of the earth itself is 15 miles a second and Professor New-comb figured out that the rise of temperature produced by the impact of our atmosphere with a perfectly stationary meteor would be some 600,000 degrees. But even the most solid metal must be burned up or volatilized with an immense evolution of light and heat before such a temperature is obtained. Thus, we can see 50 or 100 miles away particles whose mass may not exceed a single grain.

Of the Perseids, Charles P. Olivier, astronomer at the Leander McCormick observatory and one of the greatest meteorologists, says: "Of all the annual showers they are most certain to return with average richness. Also, as they come in August, when the nights are still comfortably warm, they furnish the most excellent opportunity for a person casually interested in meteors to see a good shower. Many of the Perseids leave very bright and enduring trails, which being beautiful phenomena, add to the interest of those observing these meteors."

PUBLIC IS NOT
MENACED BY GUN
OF GANG MEMBER

At Least That is What
Crime Commission
Report Says

Chicago.—(AP)—Gangsters' bullets are not a menace to the innocent bystander, for when gangsters kill, they kill each other, a report of the Chicago Crime Commission said.

Arthur V. Lashly, director of a special survey of homicides in Cook county for the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice and the Chicago Crime Commission, backed this report with figures.

"As advertised to the world," said Mr. Lashly, "the city of Chicago and visitors to the city are actually in danger of being killed by gangsters' bullets. Nothing could be more absurdly untrue. In the last two years, only two innocent bystanders were killed in Cook county, and neither was killed by gangsters. When gangsters kill, they kill each other."

Among other "popular beliefs" with which Mr. Lashly takes issue are: that murders are widespread over all the city; that the bomb is a popular weapon of destruction; and that husband killing is popular.

Preparing a map of "murder areas" Mr. Lashly shows that Cook county homicides are largely confined to small areas, the "black belt," which contributed 30 per cent; the near west side where Italians, Greeks and Negroes are mingled; and near the famous "death corner" at Milton and Oak streets, an area containing fifty thousand Italians and mixed races.

"These," he commented, "are places to be avoided."

The bomb as a gang weapon, is unequalled for intimidation, but no one has been killed by a bomb in recent years, he found. It has, however, done much to confirm and aggravate the bad reputation of Chicago as a gang center.

"Wife killers," Mr. Lashly reported, are found four times as frequently as husband killers and wives who kill their husbands are believed in the majority only because the press emphasizes the cases of the husband killers. Only four husbands were killed by wives last year, while nineteen wives were killed by husbands.

Among things that have contributed to the world wide and onerous reputation of Chicago as a crime-ridden city, Mr. Lashly found:

That while gangs are more of a nuisance than a menace, their growing

HOW THE STAGE IS SET

The diagram above shows how the earth, in its journey around the sun, passes into the meteor belt, so that "shooting stars" are visible in great abundance. Below is a photograph of the largest meteor ever to come to earth in the United States. It fell near Portland, Ore., an idea of its size is given by the two boys who are nestling in its cavity.

disregard for law is of utmost significance; that the gang is more powerful than the police—it dominates ninety legitimate business enterprises; that in killing each other gangsters do a public service, but at the same time give Chicago its reputation as a murder city; and that the number of unsolved murders points conclusively to the necessity for better detective work.

Mr. Lashly believes that the gangs can be suppressed "if there is a desire to do so."

"It is respectfully suggested," he said, "that a becoming effort by the police, as a murder prevention agency, would result in suppressing public gambling and wholesale liquor manufacture and rum running, which would deprive these gangs of their main source of revenue. When that is done, there being little left to fight for, little will remain of the gang problem."

In concluding his survey, Mr. Lashly makes eleven recommendations for improvement in the administration of justice in homicide cases:

More efficient methods in the detection of crime; suppression of public gambling and wholesale liquor manufacture and rum running, which would deprive these gangs of their main source of revenue. When that is done, there being little left to fight for, little will remain of the gang problem."

NEW YORK GIRL IN RECORD BREAKING
SWIM AT OLYMPIC

Wins 400 Meter Free Style
Event for the United States

Amsterdam, August 6.—(AP)—Martha Norelius, of New York, brought the United States its first swimming championship of the Olympic games by winning the 400 meter free style swim for women today.

Behind Miss Norelius in second place came Miss Braun of Holland while the youthful American, Josephine McKim of Homestead, Pa., was third. Miss Norelius' time was not immediately announced as officials went into a huddle but it was said to break both the world's and the Olympic records.

Miss Norelius led from the start. At 200 meters Miss McKim was second but she was unable to hold her advantage against the powerful bid of the big Dutch girl.

After the parley Miss Norelius' time was announced as five minutes, 42 and four fifth seconds, a new world's record, and new Olympic mark as well. It was several seconds faster than the record-shattering time she herself made last week in her first preliminary heat.

SWEDS WIN FREE STYLE
Amsterdam, August 6.—(AP)—Arne Borg, the "Swedish Hurricane," won the Olympic 1500 meter free style swimming championship today.

Andrew Charlton of Australia, winner of this championship four years ago at Paris, with Borg as runner up, was second, and Clarence Crabbe, American from Honolulu, third. Ray Rudy, youthful member of the United States team, was fourth; Albert Zorilla of Argentina fifth and Garne Ault of Canada sixth.

Borg's winning time was nineteen minutes, fifty-one and four-fifths seconds, a new Olympic record.

First Pictures of Hoover's Vacation in California Wilds

Desiring a rest after his transcontinental trip, Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential candidate, sought seclusion in camp among the ancient California redwood trees—and look at the mob of correspondents and cameramen who followed him! These first pictures of Hoover's vacation party in camp were taken by a photographer for Evening Telegraph and NEA Service, who is a member of the official entourage. Even the darkness of the primeval forest couldn't keep the movie cameramen still, as shown by the upper picture, showing the camp fire at Bull Creek Flat, near Dyersville, Calif. The arrow indicates Hoover. Below is a close-up of the candidate with newspaper men, and a flashlight taken at the supper table.

SMITH'S VACATION
WAS NOT ALL PLAY
FOR THE CANDIDATE

Democratic Nominee Back
In Albany With Much
Work Ahead

Albany, N. Y., August 6.—(AP)—With his acceptance speech as well as other important matters on his mind, Governor Smith was back today in his old stamping grounds of Albany from a ten day vacation that wasn't all play.

He returned to the executive mansion in the dead of night, terminating after midnight a 100-mile automobile trip through stormy darkness along the west bank of the Hudson. The Governor and members of his family motored here from Camp Smith near Peekskill where late yesterday afternoon he reviewed two regiments of the New York National Guard.

As he got back today to the grind of being a presidential nominee as well as the chief executive of an important state, Smith found a mass of accumulated business requiring his immediate attention. He also was faced with the necessity of whipping into shape his acceptance speech, which he will deliver two weeks from Wednesday evening. His engagements also held a number of conferences in connection with his candidacy.

One of his trusted advisers, Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, who has charge of publicity at the main campaign headquarters in New York and is a member of the Democratic campaign executive committee, came to Albany with the Governor's party, having joined it at Peekskill. She plans to remain several days, and undoubtedly will have a hand in the preparation of the nominee's message to the nation.

Within the next two or three weeks Smith also intends to consult, either here or elsewhere, a number of party leaders, among them Senator Walsh of Montana and also recognized authorities of the farm question.

YOU? YES, WHO CAN TELL? YOU MAY BE THE NEXT VICTIM

Not for one short second can you even delay that swinging pendulum. Ceaselessly it travels its course unmindful of whom it brings to misfortune. Wrecks, collisions, smash-ups in trains, automobiles, street cars, buggies, daily add their toll.

WATCH OUT! YOU CAN'T STOP IT—BUT YOU CAN BE PROTECTED

With story after story of such catastrophies finding their way into the columns of this newspaper every day, The Telegraph believes that would be offering a splendid service if it could find a way to protect its readers against just such misfortune at a small cost. And a way has been found. The Telegraph readers can now be protected. Indeed we are proud to advertise the fact that every Telegraph reader in this surrounding territory, both men and women, between the ages of 16 and 70 may, without delay, red tape or medical examination, purchase a

CAPTAIN TELLS OF COURTNEY RESCUE FROM BURNED SHIP

Searched All Day For the Four British Fliers—Plane Abandoned

New York, August 4—(AP)—A graphic story of the liner Minnewaska's rescue at sea of the flying boat Whale and its crew of four is told in a radio message from its Captain, Frank H. Claret.

Captain Claret, in a message to the liner's owner, the Atlantic Transport Company, described in terse seaman's language how he steered 345 miles off his course and searched the seas from early Thursday morning until dusk before he found the disabled seaplane and took Captain Frank T. Courtney and his crew aboard.

Engine Room Burned
The plane had been forced down about 600 miles west of the Azores by fire on its attempted flight from the Azores to Newfoundland. Captain Claret reported the engine room was burned out and the wireless battery exhausted and that the plane was abandoned as it was impractical to salvage it.

The Minnewaska with Captain Courtney and his companions is due to arrive in New York on Monday.

"Our small party," radioed Captain Claret, was as follows:
"Picked up 8 O S 6 Thursday morning. Raced to position. Instituted search without result until 1 P. M., when amended position of plane was received. Course then altered for new position, which reached 5 P. M., but no plane visible."

"Estimated plane drifted to eastward due to Gulf Stream and western winds. Steered east 15 miles when plane was observed distance about nine miles to eastward."

"Reached plane 6:44 P. M. Found riding easily on gentle swells. Engine room burned out. Wireless battery exhausted."

Crew Was Brave
"Sent boat away which returned ship 7:06 P. M. with brave, tired but cheerful survivors. All well. Impractical to save plane. Night falling. Abandoned with consent of owner. He will test its sea worthiness. Our diversion from track totaled 341 miles. Rescue aided by ideal weather conditions and extreme visibility. Inundated with requests from press for story and photographs. Impractical to reply to all."

Chance Vought, of New York, manufacturer and designer of Navy seaplanes, commenting on accounts of the accident, said he understood the fire in the plane was caught by the breaking of a fuel line near the exhaust and said this might easily occur in planes of that type.

Courtney Praised
Vought remarked that the forced landing showed again that a flying boat can be brought down in the ocean in moderate weather and remain afloat for some time. Landing in the ocean, particularly in a hurry, he said, is a "tricky job." He praised the skill in which Captain Courtney managed it with a fire on his tail.

NAVY PAY

Navy pay has always been a mystery to those not intimately concerned with it—in fact, it is mysterious to some who draw it! It is rather a difficult matter to fully and clearly explain, because so much of the pay of the Navy man is "invisible" and conditional upon certain things.

I will commence by explaining the various pay grades. There are seven pay grades, ranging from $21.00 per month, the pay of the newly-enlisted man during his first four months of service, on up to the $126.00 per month which is the base pay of a Chief Petty Officer with a permanent appointment, with twelve years service, receives his base pay, $126.00, plus 10 percent for the first four years, 5 percent for the second four years, 5 percent for the third four years ($25.20) or $151.20 per month. After having served sixteen years, he receives an additional 5 percent, which makes $157.50 per month, the top "straight" pay.

In addition to this "straight" pay there are numerous additions, such as $30.00 per month for submarine service, 50 percent for aviation service, $5.00 per month when serving as a gun captain, $5.00 per month while serving as messman, and so on. But the actual cash pay of the Navy is not the only thing to take into consideration. One's pay, as everyone knows, is NOT the sum which is received through the window, but what is left after the monthly deluge of bills is cleared away. In this respect the Navy pay looks much larger than at first glance. The Navy man has no board or lodging bill to meet, his clothing expense is very small, the bulk of his amusements—sports, reading, movies, smokers, etc. are free and, if he desires, he can make his purchases ashore at reduced prices. The average necessary monthly expenditures of the Navy man is $60.00—of course, it is not intended to convey the idea that this is actually all that the Navy men spend, but what he spends besides is his own matter.

I have now given, as clearly as possible, the "dope" on the actual cash pay of the Navy. Now let us see what else the Navy man gets. First—medical attention. He has absolutely no need to lay aside a cent against any emergency of this sort. His medical officer is right with him aboard ship, and it is not only his privilege, but his duty to report to the sickbay when ill. His pay goes on if he is incapacitated for duty, unless this incapacity is caused by his own misconduct.

I have mentioned above that his sports are free. Equipment, instructors and facilities for almost all sports are at his disposal for the asking. Athletics and athletic competition of every kind is desired and encouraged and, although it is never forgotten that duty comes first, as much time as possible is allowed for training.

Third, education. A swag mentioned in another article, the Navy maintains sixteen Trade Schools for the recruit and a round dozen for the advanced training in various ratings. In addition, there are at the Navy man's disposal 110 ICS courses, covering almost every known subject that can in any way be applied to the Navy. It is absolutely unnecessary for the Navy man to spend a cent for education. He is able to get the best education in the world, that of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, solely for the effort required to pass the examinations.

His various amusements have already been mentioned. The Navy buys the first run of movies and they are shown aboard ship two or three times, or more, weekly. All ships, at short intervals, stage a "smoker"—boxing bouts, vaudeville, etc., to which the crews of all other ships are invited.

Last but not least, we come to what is fittingly called the "invisible" earnings of the Navy man. I will not present a confusing mass of figures to illustrate them, but will give only a bare sketch. After having served five cruises, or twenty years, in the Navy, one may, at his own request, be transferred to the Fleet Naval Reserve and inactive duty. There he is in the same status as a civilian—subject to call only in the event of war or national emergency. He receives, as a retainer pay, one-half of the base pay of his rating. As 96 percent of those who are thus transferred have attained the grade of Chief Petty Officer, we may assume that this retainer pay is one-half of $126.00 per month, or $63.00.

The Fleet Reservist receives this pay during the time between his transfer and the time when he completes thirty years of service—twenty active and ten inactive. Thus, he receives 10x12—63, or $7560.00 in these ten years. Remember that—$7560.00.

Upon the completion of this thirty-year period, he is retired from the Navy—free of all connection with it. He then is given a life-time pension ($7560.00). His previous retainer pay ($63.00) plus all permanent additions (the percentage of his pay given for service—25 percent of $126.00 or $31.50) plus $15.75 in lieu of light, heat and quarters—a total of $110.25 per month.

Copying from insurance statistics, let us suppose that he enlisted at the age of 18. He was 37 at the end of his twenty years of active service—47 at the time of his retirement. He can, then, expect to live at least to the age of 65—thus drawing the pension for a period of 18 years. During that time, then, he receives 18x$110.25, or the sum of $33,844.00.

We note that he has already received as retainer pay during his Fleet Reserve service, the sum of $7560.00. He receives, then, without performing any active service in the Navy, the total of $33,844.00. This is the "invisible" pay he has been accumulating during his twenty years of active service, or at the rate of $130.71 per month. Now let's look over the Navy pay—the recruit starts out at $151.71 per month, or $35.01 per week, and as he passes through the other pay grades—$36.00, $54.00, $60.00, $72.00, $84.00 and $99.00 per month—well, figure it out and it will be easy to see why 75 percent reenlisted last year.

Cities Picked for Playground Awards

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—Middle western cities, including two in Illinois, have been selected for five of the six first playground grants out of the $40,000 fund offered this year by the Harmon Foundation, the Playground & Recreation Association of America, which is administering the plan of awards, has announced.

Wholesale Arrests in New Bedford's Textile Strike

The textile strike in New Bedford, Mass., was left virtually leaderless when police engaged in wholesale arrests such as the one pictured above. Pickets in front of the textile mills were arrested on charges of rioting and taken to headquarters by the truckload. More than 200 of those arrested were found guilty and received jail sentences.

In each of the cities selected, a real estate developer will receive $2,000 to be used for improving and equipping an area set aside permanently in a new subdivision for public recreation purposes. The Illinois winners are the Will County Realty company, developers of Westminister, Joliet, and Carl O. Johnson and Company, developers of Rolling Green, Rockford. Other sites winning were Gary, Indiana, Lorain, Ohio, Ashland, Kentucky and Westwood, New Jersey.

These subdivisions were selected from more than 200 that applied because of the city's swift growth, and consequent need of play space, the promise of the subdivision, the suitability of the proposed area for a public play ground, and the acceptance of the city of the area.

The word Harmon will be a part of the name of each playground thus linking them with more than one hundred others established during the past six years by the Harmon foundation, established by the late William E. Harmon, realtor and philanthropist.

The foundation was established to demonstrate to real estate dealers the economic value of reserving play spaces permanently when land is subdivided, but only through the value of the play space to future generations, but through its sales value. The Rockford playground is the largest of the winners, containing 6.4 acres centrally located in the 157-acre Rolling Green development in Rockford. The Joliet playground is three acres. Both have been accepted by their respective cities.

G. O. P. Committee Reports Finances

Washington, August 4—(AP)—The Republican National Committee today reported contributions of $98,379, up to and including July 31 and expenditures of $48,317.04. J. R. Nutt, treasurer of the committee, made public the statement in accordance with the pledge made by the republican party in the platform adopted at Kansas City and copies of the report were sent to the senate and house campaign funds investigating committee.

The largest contributions recorded were for $10,000, three persons giving that amount, including Howard Hains, of Pittsburgh, Secretary Dwight F. Davis of the War Department and Arthur Whitney of Mendham, N. J.

There were two contributions of $7000 each, O. P. Sweringen and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland.

Who's Who in Dogdom—No. 17

The Pointer's Tail Is His Badge of Nobility

Pointers are Spanish in origin, despite the popular belief that they are British dogs.

They were brought to England by Tommies who fought in Spain during the Spanish War of Succession (1704-13). In recent times we have the example of the Alsatian, brought to America by world war soldiers.

Gains Slender Lines
The Pointer to be seen in Spain and its neighbor Portugal, today, is a thicker set and shorter legged dog than his more carefully bred English and American prototype. Despite the fact that "travel broadens one," our Pointer is a more slender, symmetrical animal than he was before he started to roam.

Present day standards call for an adult dog to stand about twenty-seven inches at the shoulder and in general appearance to display every evidence of careful breeding. The best Pointer is built to gallop and perform a good day's work afield.

The Pointer's tail is his badge of nobility. More than any amount of written pedigree, this tail tells the tail. It should be thick at the base and taper to a very fine point.

Seems to Chew Scent
"Chewing the scent" is another infallible proof of the inheritance of old Pointer blood. It is so called because the dog when on the point appears constantly to be munching something. This is accompanied by excess saliva, a sign that the dog is actually enjoying the taste of the scent on his palate.

Training brings out the best there is in a Pointer. They are intelligent and quick to pick up the business they were intended to follow. A good Pointer is also a good house dog, perfectly trustworthy with children.

They Talk of Farm Relief

George N. Peek, leader of the "agricultural revolt" in the corn belt and chairman of the "Committee of Twenty-Two" representing the North Central States Agricultural Conference, is shown here at the right as he conferred in New York with John Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The two discussed plans for farm products marketing that may be incorporated in the Democratic policy for the forthcoming campaign.

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
 - 2-You can change only one letter at a time.
 - 3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
 - 4-The order of letters cannot be changed.
- One solution is printed on page 9.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SPIRIT" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 5.

The Golden Text was from Psalms 143:10, "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God; thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One. Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth" (Isaiah 40:25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God" (p. 334).

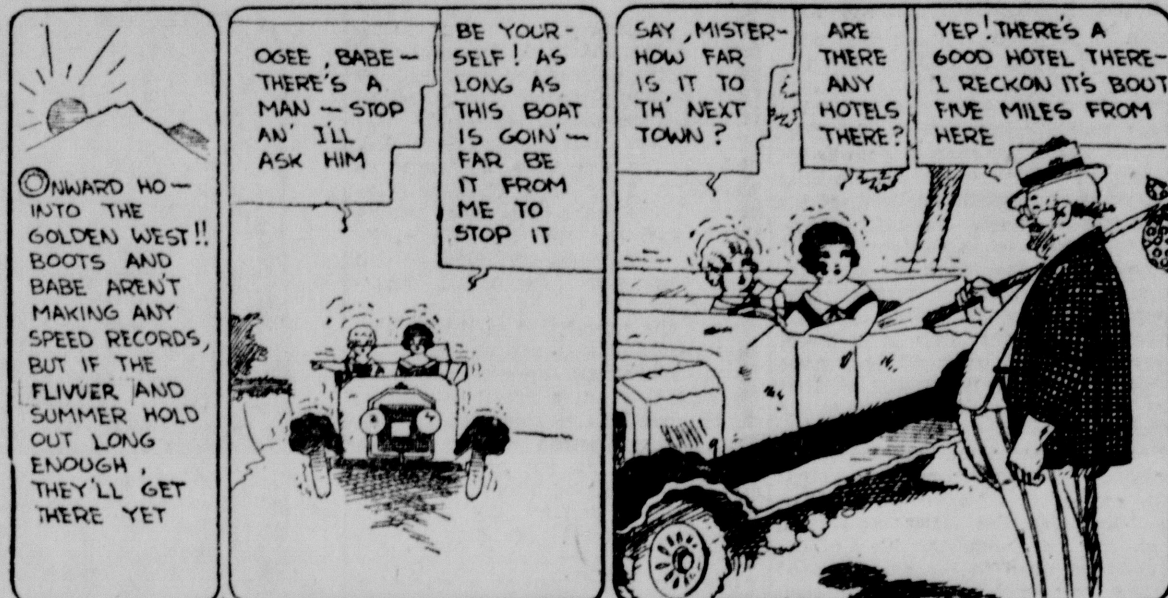

SMITHSONIAN FUNDS

AID STATE RESEARCH

Washington—(AP)—State and federal cooperation for ethnological and archaeological research, among American Indians is being sought by officials of the Smithsonian Institution. The institution has available a $20,000 congressional appropriation for use with sums appropriated by the states for research work within their boundaries. As each state makes an appropriation for such investigation, Secretary Charles G. Abbot explains, the institution will consider the undertaking and if it finds the expenditure justified will give an amount equal to the state fund to carry the work forward.

Tennessee is the first state to take advantage of the opportunity thus offered, having been allotted $2,000 out of the appropriation which became available July 1.

NOVA SCOTIA GOLD MINES. STILL GIVE GOOD RETURN. Halifax, N. S. (AP)—Western Canada has no monopoly on gold mining in this dominion. Free gold is still so rich in Nova Scotia that operators have to guard against dishonest employees.

Official figures reveal that gold production in Nova Scotia since 1862 is valued about $20,000,000. It is estimated, however, that these figures include only half of the real output, for in early days many operators did not make returns, and miners also indulged in "bootlegging." Thus they sold independently thousands of rich nuggets.

X-Ray Shows Epilepsy Cause

By Mark Lewis Emerson, M. D., Oakland, Calif. Member Gorgas Memorial

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Gorgas Memorial, which has its headquarters at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

A recent case of epilepsy showed a loose piece of bone within the skull was the cause. The case had an indefinite history of a head injury in childhood, but it was so long ago that the mother forgot all about it. At the age of sixteen the child developed frequent attacks of epilepsy. An x-ray of the skull did not show any evidence of fracture, but it did show a small object the size of a pea under the dura or thick brain membrane, which was not attached to the bony skull. An exploratory incision demonstrated that this small hard substance could be removed by dissecting it out of the scar tissue of the brain membrane. It was later examined and proved to be a piece of bone. After this was removed the patient recovered. It was thought that there had been an internal fracture in childhood, that a detached piece of bone became enmeshed in the brain membrane, which finally became so irritating that it caused the so-called brain spasm or epileptic fits.

The brain has two or three coverings, first the skull, then the dura, a very thick fascia-like membrane, then a fine spider-web like membrane full of small caliber blood vessels. In congestion of the brain, it is this mesh of blood vessels that is often affected.

Nature does a great deal to protect the brain with its hard bony casing, its delicate membrane and different fluids within the cranium. Head injuries of all kinds should be considered serious, automobile accidents are now a prolific source of various types of head injuries, and cautious driving will reduce the number of accidents and fractures.

The average case of epilepsy should not be considered hopeless, as the cause can be found in some cases and can be greatly relieved. Epileptics are receiving great benefits from certain medicines recently placed on the market and noticeable headway is being made in relieving these unfortunate people. They should always have the best possible medical care and supervision, and if the family doctor thinks there is a history of skull injury and orders a stereoscopic x-ray, it should be obtained.

LOVE FOR TWO

RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

when he had dismissed an insolent servant a few days before.

She looked at Rod and he fancied there was a despairing appeal in her glance. But there was nothing dark lamps in a mist, filled with the hope that he would be able to help her. Rod hoped that he would be the only one to suffer and that Lila would escape her husband's wrath. He regretted that the exposure couldn't have been put off until the next day—when he meant to tell Cyrus himself.

His expression, to Lila, appeared sphinxlike. She had never made such a great appeal to him as at that moment, when he thought she was facing a painful revelation in consequence of her kindness to him.

His features became blank in order not to risk showing his feelings, but he hoped that Lila would see in his calm composure a will and readiness to face the music—that he understood she had done her utmost for him.

Lila slowly drew the rope of pearls over her head and gave them to Monsieur Clavier. "They're really very insignificant to receive your attention," she found voice to say disparagingly.

Privately Monsieur agreed with her, and was mentally chiding himself for having created an awkward situation over a few small pearls. Hereafter, he resolved, he would refrain from commenting upon the jewels belonging to people who practically were strangers to him.

Especially his appreciation of the gems was less than his admiration for their wearer.

But he was in it now, and he did not wish to say before Madame's husband and her guests that he had been more interested in the perfection with which the pearls matched her complexion than in the pearls themselves.

Still, his breeding would not permit him to express his true opinion of them, which was in accord with Lila's. Turning them over in his hand, scrutinizing them closely, he cast about in his mind for some genuine praise to bestow upon them.

Rod was watching him with fascinated intentness, waiting for the denouement. He expected the Frenchman to show surprise, to become embarrassed. Instead, Monsieur Clavier returned the pearls to Lila with the remark that they were very well matched, indeed, and of a really good color.

"They're the iridescent pearls that are found in the Pacific, near Australia," he told Cyrus. "No others could be so suitable for Madame's fair skin."

Lila took them in a limp hand. She did not look at Rod, who sat with a rather foolish expression of amazement spreading over his countenance.

Cyrus alone thanked Monsieur Clavier for his opinion. Then the company burst into an excited chatter, that covered their relief over a threatening cloud dispelled. It was still evident, however, that their hostess was disturbed, but at least there was no further cause to dread the subtle sense of trouble that had hovered over them.

WITH this knowledge sinking like a poisoned arrow into her heart, Lila became a wild creature fighting with its back against the wall. She tore her wrist free with a quick gesture and stood back from Rod, smiling mockingly at him.

"You've guessed it, I think," she said coolly. "The things never were stolen. What do you make of that?"

"Make of it?" Rod echoed, rendered less accusing by her uncering attitude.

"Oh Rod," Lila said with surprising softness, "don't be a complete idiot any longer. You must know why I did it."

"If I did I'd no doubt be too smart to have let you put it over," Rod replied. "I guess I'm a complete idiot, all right."

Lila moved swiftly toward him and put her hands on his arms. "Rod," she breathed, "Rod, I had to do it."

Rod stared down at her in utter astonishment. Lila's eyes were indescribable paths.

"I had to make that moment over our glasses come true," she said, "that moment at the table tonight, you never would have said it, Rod darling, but it was in your heart. I knew it. I'd have done anything to make you speak. And I never intended to let you pay for the jewels. Oh you dear stupid, never to have guessed that I gave you an empty case. . . ."

Rod silenced her by tearing her hands hastily from his arms, where gradually they had been creeping toward his shoulders. "Lila, for God's sake . . ." he began, but she interrupted him with a soft palm on his lips.

"Not so loud," she cautioned. "And don't act as if I'd murdered you or something. You must have known for months that we'd have to have an understanding, some day. Well, I'm glad the time has come. I couldn't stand it any longer."

"But what did you do that for?" Rod asked. "You don't know what I've gone through over that fake theft?"

"Yes, I do," Lila contradicted; "but don't you see, Rod, that it served to put things in their true light for you?"

"How do you mean?" Rod questioned sharply.

"Why, I mean about . . . us, and Bertie Lou, of course."

"I'm afraid you're jumping to conclusions," Rod rejoined; "everything is hopelessly muddled as far as I am concerned."

Lila made an impatient gesture. "Why do you make me say it?" she cried. "Can't you see that if you hadn't got in trouble you wouldn't have found out that Bertie Lou doesn't care anything about you? That she was only interested in your future success with Cy?"

When you put a stop to her extravagance she found someone with money to spend on her, didn't she?"

Rod was white. "You mean you faked that theft to get me in a hole?" he asked.

"To make you think me a good friend," Lila explained; "to get you to thinking of me with gratitude. You've always loved me, Rod; if you hadn't started hating me simply because we couldn't afford to marry each other you'd never have imagined that you didn't love me. Do we have to be cheated out of happiness forever simply because you made a mistake like that? I've never stopped loving you," she added and moved forward again to throw herself into his arms.

"I know I tricked you," she went on as Rod sought to loosen her arms from his neck, "but that old bromide about love and war is as good today as it ever was."

"I wouldn't have taken any money from you, but I had to do something to start you caring for me again, and I did help you with Cyrus, you know."

She paused and looked beseechingly at him. "You do love me, don't you?" she pleaded and reached up quickly to put her lips to his.

YANKEES VICTORS AGAIN IN WORLD GAMES THIS YEAR

But Their Showing Was Not as Good as It
Has Been Hoped

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
Amsterdam, August 6 (AP)—The United States has captured the Olympic track and field championship for the ninth successive time in 32 years but only at the expense of the biggest blow to American foot racing prestige ever sustained on an international field. This was almost the unanimous opinion, even among Americans themselves, as the blue ribbon features of the ninth Olympiad closed with France's Algerian, El Ouali, wearing the marathon laurel wreath instead of Jole Ray, and the bulk of the remaining running honors divided by Finland and the British Empire. Only the spectacular running of Ray Barbuti in the 400-meter flat race, in which the Yankees scored their only individual victory, and the triumph of the American teams in record-breaking or record equalling relays yesterday saved the United States from complete rout on the cinder path. The point margin by which America won the team title, 173 to Finland's 102, was gained chiefly on the brilliance of the field performers who won five events.

Comparison With 1924
Despite the decisiveness of the margin, the Americans scored 82 fewer points than they did four years ago when the same scoring system prevailed, and won eight first places against 12 in 1924.

Keener competition, as evidenced by the wider distribution of the chief honors this time than ever before; the failure of many of the Americans such as Lloyd Hahn, Frank Wykoff and Jole Ray to regain their home form; and the existence of some discord in the official family over various arrangements—these reasons all helped to explain the way the Americans fared.

"We haven't a lot to brag about," Head Coach Lawson Robertson admitted after completion of the eight day struggle. "But all circumstances considered, I think the boys did well. If you think we are gloomy look at the Germans. They came back to the Olympics with hopes high. I figured them our strongest rivals outside of Finland but they didn't win a single first place."

Two Finn Stars Lost
Finland retained distance running supremacy outside of the marathon but two defeats for Paavo Nurmi and one for Willie Ritola at a time when this pair still was believed to be invincible ranks as one of the game's biggest sensations. The flying Finnish veterans, who between them won ten Olympic championships in eight years, unquestionably have passed the peak and may be on the way out completely.

The marathon victory of the Algerian Arab, El Ouali, who never won a big race before in his life, capped the climax of a succession of upsets which hit the United States and Germany, saw champions and record holders trimmed unceremoniously and developed such new sensations as the unheralded Percy Williams, doubles sprint winner. Ray, though beaten, finished as gamely on his muscle-tightened legs as he did at Boston several months ago. His record of finishing third, first and fifth in the only three competitive marathons of his career is outstanding.

Only two individual champions successfully defended their honors—Douglas Lowe, of England, in the 900 meters, and Bud Houser, of the United States, in the discus.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The uncanny antics of a fast ball as served by a young right-hander and a not-so-young southpaw have chopped another full game out of the once imposing American League lead of Miller Huggins's high priced New York Yankees.

Staggering and stumbling about in hostile western territory, the Yankees were humbled yesterday by the speed and courage of young Ed Walsh and the Chicago White Sox.

Taking full advantage of this opportunity, Connie Mack's Athletics, with pennant fever backing through their veins, trounced Detroit, 5 to 1, as Lefty Grove, 28-year-old southpaw, fired the ball past Tiger batsmen with bewildering speed.

As a consequence, the Yanks' once proud lead of thirteen games has been reduced to three and a half and unless the champions pull themselves together there's a chance that the A's will overhaul them before another week has been passed.

Only a month or so out of Notre Dame, Walsh, son of a father famous in White Sox history, stood the Yankees on their heads and won a well earned 5 to 4 victory. He fanned nine men, settling down among others Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel. The champions threatened in the ninth, scoring two runs but Walsh bore down and induced Koenig to raise a pop fly, retiring the side. Walsh gave six passes, made two wild pitches and hit one batsman but courageously pitched his way out of every difficulty.

13 Strikeouts in Game Here Sunday

The baseball game between West Brooklyn and the Reynolds. Wire Company teams which opened a double attraction at the Singer field Sunday afternoon, resulted in a pitcher's battle in which the participants were evenly matched. Knauer who twirled for the visitors and is being closely observed by big league scouts was selected to oppose "Smoky" Joe Miller of this city.

The wire weavers not only won the game by a score of 5 to 2, but Miller with a ligament in his back badly torn and taped, pitched a wonderful game, striking out 17 of the opposing batters. Knauer also launched forth for a strikeout record and succeeded in fanning 14 of the Dixon batters, making a total of 31 strike out for both pitchers in the contest which was viewed by a large crowd of spectators.

Pitchers dominated the other American League battle in which the Boston Red Sox trimmed the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 1.

In the first game of one of those well-known "crucial" series, the St. Louis Cardinals stretched their National League lead to six and a half games by turning back their closest rivals, the New York Giants, 6 to 4 in 15 innings.

Haley hit his 18th homer of the year in the first inning with two on and Travis Jackson his eighth with one on the paths in the fourth.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

It takes some years to discover that the man who insists on using the fly for trout, irrespective of the condition of the water or of the weather, is after all a poor sportsman. A true sportsman is not necessarily one who always fishes or hunts in the most difficult way, but one who does these things in the best and most natural way. All fishing should be based on the knowledge of the habits of the fish, and the real sportsman is he who can and does take advantage of such knowledge.

The true sportsman realizes the unnaturalness and utility of dry flies during rainy and muddy spring days and uses the natural bait, which is a worm or minnow.

The early season trout fishing calls for angle worms or minnows. Any kind of angle worm will do, but not all anglers understand the proper use of the minnow.

Trout will have nothing to do with pouts, dog-fish minnows, mud-minnnows, or in fact any minnow other than the shiner—the ordinary clear-water minnow with the black stripe on its silver sides. The use of the lower order or minnows must result in failure.

Unlike bass and some other fish, the trout do not require a live, wig-gling minnow, but will take not only dead minnows, but parts of dead minnows. Some excellent catches of brook trout have been made on halves of minnows.

Do not think that this sport requires no skill. There is just as much skill to it as there is fly fishing. Compared with hooking a rising trout, the hooking of a trout which is nibbling at the minnow is an exact science.

Not one angler in ten can hook the trout fifty per cent of the time. By a sort of sixth sense, the minnow trout must know just when the fish has taken the hook into its mouth—to strike before that means failure and to let the fish feel the hook before striking also means failure.
